CROW'S NEST PASS BUREAU

"Sleeping Giant" Mountain

One of Scenic Wonders of Pass Area

—Herald Engraving.

BLAIRMORE, Aug. 26. — The Crow's Nest Pass, famous for its Frank Slide and Crow's Nest Mountain, has another wonder of nature which, in spite of its near location to town, is unknown to many residents and visitors.

Pictured above is Mount Phillips, sometimes called "Mount Tecumseh" or the "Sleeping Giant." Its elevation of 8,364 feet is exceeded only by three other mountains in this area, the Crow's Nest Mountain, Mt. Ptolemy and the Gold Dome which range in the 9,000-foot bracket.

The loaction of this mountain is southwest of the Crow's Nest mountain and the Tent mountain strip mine and can be seen from both Blairmore and Coleman.

Is it possible, many ask, that nature has carved this monument in respect to the tribes of Indians comprising Crows, Kootenay and Blood Indians who roamed the Pass before the white settlers inhabited the area in the early days?

If readers will turn the picture lengthwise they will see carved in solid limestone the striking likeness figure of a sleeping Indian chief.

Suffers Cut

BLAIRMORE, Aug. 26. — David Decoux was taken to the Crow's Nest Pass Municipal hospital Wednesday afternoon suffering from a deep cut to his hand received while chopping wood. Hospital attendants found it necessary to put in six stitches to close the cut.

BLAIRMORE, Aug. 26.— Sigmund Kausel is on leave in Blairmore for thre days after having successfully passed qualifications for the permanent force of Canada (Army). He joined the R.C.E. and is being posted to S.E.M.E., Chilliwack, B.C., for eight months' training. Later he will go to Camp Borden for posting.

Given Shower

COLEMAN, Aug. 26.— Approximately 100 people gathered in the Odd Fellows' hall in Coleman on Aug. 23 at a shower held in honor of Miss Anne Supwot of Coleman.

Guests enjoyed an evening of whist and bingo, with card prizes going to Mrs. M. Ziajka, first, and Miss H. Gejdos, second, and Miss H. Ziajka won the consolation.

Miss Supwot was presented with a 66-piece set of dishes, a tri-lite lamp and many other gifts.

The hostesses, Mrs. M. Biela, Mrs. M. Calkan, Mrs. R. Zuberon, Mrs. E. Dwarkin, Mrs. W. Badzick, Miss Irene Zinook, Mrs. E. Churla, Miss A. Churla, Miss S. Badzick and Miss H. Hazuka served the guests luncheon. Miss Supwot will marry A. Orlando of Blairmore on Sept. 2.

Quota Now Met

BLAIRMORE, Aug. 26.—Sergeant Charles Hetherington, local recruiting officer, was notified by phone from army headquarters that recruiting for the Special Service Force has met its quota, but the army will still take men who can qualify for the permanent force where requirements call for higher standards.

Children playing with firecrackers are blamed for the outburst. There was no damage. The fire department made a quick run to the scene and the blaze was soon put out.

Mail Service Cut But The Herald Comes Through

TABER—(HNS)—The first general effect of the railway strike, as it is felt by Taber, is the upsetting of mail schedules. Formerly deliveries of mail came from both the east and west twice daily by rail but the service is now limited to one receipt from each direction daily: from the east at 8:59 a.m. and from the west at 10:56 a.m.

Postmaster J. M. Kinniburgh has emphasized that only first class mail is being accepted, the only exception to this ruling being medicines and doctor's prescriptions. Mail going north from Medicine Hat and Lethbridge will be flown.

Daily newspaper delivery at Taber suffers little. The Lethbridge Herald, as formerly, is being brought in by Taber Transport.

Says British Taxes Are High

CARDSTON.— (HNS) — Alfred Darby, who recently returned from a holiday trip to his homeland in England, gave a talk on his trip abroad at the regular luncheon of the Cardston Rotary club Monday. He and his wife returned to Cardston last week.

Mr. Darby stated they found nearly all commodities still under strict ration and prices high for food and clothing. Land rental and taxes both seemed very high to them as compared with those in Canada. They were not impressed with conditions under the Labor government and felt the farmers in Britain are better off and have more security than the industrial workers.

He especially mentioned the school systems there, where, he said, all children get free lunches at noon and free medical services.

Potatoes Suffer At Del Bonita

DEL BONITA—(HNS)— Reports are still very conflicting as to the extent of damage caused by the recent frost. Some claim no damage whatever to grain while others state that considerable damage has been done. The extent of the damage, if any, will not be determined until harvesting operations proceed.

Potato crops were hit heavily as well as some other garden stuff. Some potato vines were completely blackened by the frost but most of them are still green underneath and may come back if the weather holds as open as usual.

DISTRICT DOINGS

TENDERED FAREWELL

DEL BONITA—(HNS)— Mr. and Mrs. Jim Woods were tendered a farewell party at the Community hall section of the school house when a large crowd assembled in spite of the stormy weather. Both will be missed as they have taken a keen interest in community affairs. Mrs. Woods has done valuable work in the primary grades at school, while Jim Woods has always been on hand to give of his time freely and willingly to anything that would benefit the school or community. Last winter, in company with Leon Weiss and others, Mr. Woods gave over thirty days' valuable work in putting the finishing touches on the community hall and school, all gratis. The large circle of friends here wish them every success in their new home at the coast.

RAIN IN BORDER AREA

DEL BONITA—(HNS)— Over a quarter of an inch of rain fell at Del Bonita in a recent storm but moisture at the present time is not doing the good it could have done earlier. Crops at the present time are in need of hotter weather in order to ripen before frosts.

FROST DAMAGES GARDENS

SEVEN PERSONS—(HNS)—Farmers in the south districts report serious frost damage to their gardens. This is very disappointing as the garden produce was the best for years owing to the heavy rains. The mushroom lovers have had a real harvest. Reports are: some canning, some pickling and some making catsup of this edible luxury.

CLARESHOLM VISITOR

CLARESHOLM. — (HNS) — Another of Claresholm's former citizens, Dr. Del Miller, was in town this week. Dr. Miller, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Miller, is vacationing here with his wife and two sons for the remainder of the month. Mrs. Miller, Donald and Robert, have been here since July. During the past year Dr. Miller was director of student personnel at the Monterey Peninsula College, a small two year college near scenic Carmel, California. He is leaving there, however, and has accepted a professorship at Washington State College. There he will be head of the department of counsellor training within the school of education and psychology.

Town Council Seeks To Surface Cardston Street

CARDSTON.— (HNS) — At the regular meeting of the Cardston town council recently it was agreed to write Calgary Power Company to seek a loop service for the town from Spring Coulee.

Negotiations are underway, it was announced, between the town and the department of public works at Edmonton to have a coat of hard surface laid on Cardston's main street. This is to be a hot-mix layer to finish the job started in 1939.

A delegation was present from the Cardston Athletic Association asking that plans be worked out so hardball and softball activities on the town square will not conflict. The problem was left with the works and property committee.

A letter of resignation was received by the mayor and council from band leader S. W. Low. It was turned over to the civic, music and arts committee for action.

Councilman W. G. Bennett was appointed to be the deputy mayor for the next three months.

Park Engineer Major S. O. Roberts Resigns; Leaving Govt. Service

WATERTON LAKES NATIONAL PARK—Major S. O. Roberts, recently appointed engineer of Waterton Lakes National Park, resigned his position Wednesday. Major Roberts, who was appointed to the position last April, is leaving the Department of Resources and Development after 35 years in government service.

A former resident of Cape Breton Island, Major Roberts will continue his duties here until he is relieved sometime during September. Mrs. Roberts is leaving for Ottawa next week.

Little Effect of Rail Strike Seen; Threat of U.S. Tie-up Causes Worry

WATERTON LAKES NATIONAL PARK—The rail strike has not as yet cut into the tourist business at Waterton. H. H. Boswell, manager of the Prince of Wales hotel, stated that his business is holding up very well. People who were travelling by C.P.R. to the Canadian parks are coming to Waterton by bus, then travelling to Glacier Park on Glacier Park Transport buses and back to the east by the Great Northern railroad. However, Mr. Boswell added that if there is a strike on the railroads in the United States business in his hotel would probably come to a standstill.

Waterton is almost entirely visited by persons travelling from local points by car and Americans entering from Glacier Park and Americans on their way to Banff and Jasper. Few tourists travel through by bus to make train connections in Canada. Car traffic, especially from the United States has been holding up very well for the lateness of the season. One lodge owner stated that it has been his best August yet. "Almost every night we are filled with transient Americans. We have had more people from Saskatchewan than ever before, he said.

TOUR BUSES

Two "Rocky Mountain Tour" buses arrived in the park Wednesday bringing Americans, who had been travelling vit C.P.R., down to Glacier Station to finish their journey by Great Northern.

Attendance figures at the outdoor showings of the National Film Board productions shown in the Park by W. Rodney, public relations officer, have shattered all previous figures. Mr. Rodney stated Thursday that over 5,000 people have seen the movies this summer. "Next year with the new outdoor theatre completed it should almost be possible to double this figure," added Mr. Rodney.
